Description of Incident

On August 28, 2025, an electrical fault in the kitchen wiring caused a fire that spread along the ceiling cavity before being extinguished by the local fire department. The kitchen and an adjoining section of the dining room sustained significant fire and smoke damage.

The fire department's incident report noted that flames had spread into a section of the wall framing above the kitchen counter, and recommended a structural assessment before any repair work begins, given visible charring on a load-bearing wall stud.

Damage Summary

Kitchen cabinetry and countertops: total loss, full replacement required.

Ceiling and upper wall framing above the kitchen: charring observed; structural engineer assessment recommended before repair.

Electrical wiring throughout the affected section: requires full inspection and likely rewiring.

Smoke damage extends into the dining room walls and soft furnishings.

Policyholder Statement

“We were away for the evening when a neighbor noticed smoke and called the fire department. The fire crew told us the wiring behind the wall likely caused it. We have not been able to use the kitchen since, and our contractor mentioned the wall itself might need structural repair, not just cosmetic work.”
